Detailed Action

Status of Claims

The amendment/remarks received in the office on 12/27/2005 cancelling claims 1-21 and presenting new claims 22-37 has been entered. Claims 22-37 are currently pending.

Response to Amendment/Remarks

The amendment canceling claims 1-21 renders moot the rejections of said claims from the previous office action.

Examiner notes the amendments include a more descriptive title. The objection to the title is thus withdrawn.

New claims 22-37 are addressed below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 22-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pool et al. (US Patent No. 5741803).

The examiner wishes to point out that the current specification discloses, on page 3, that compound I (the presently claimed compound) has a unit dose suitably comprising 2-12 mg or preferably 4-8 mg in a pharmaceutically acceptable form. The current specification discloses, on page 8, that the medicaments may be administered from 1-6 times a day, suitably 1 or 2 times a day, and preferably once a day.

Pool et al. teach, in col. 1 lines 10-25, compounds of formula (I) useful in the treatment and/or prophylaxis of Type II diabetes and related conditions including hyperlipidemia, hypertension and cardiovascular disease. Pool et al. teach, in col. 2 lines 40-45, a preferred compound of formula (I) is 5-[4-[2-(N-methyl-N-92-pyridyl)amino)ethoxy]benzyl]thiazolidine-2,4-dione maleic acid (the maleic acid salt of the currently claimed compound I). Pool et al. teach, in col. 5 lines 1-50, that the composition of formula (I) can be formulated for oral administration and can be delivered as unit dosages wherein the unit dose will normally contain an amount of the active ingredient in the range from 0.1-1000 mg, and can be administered from 1-6 times a day.

Pool et al. does not explicitly teach a sustained release pharmaceutical composition adapted to provide a particular plasma concentration.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that the composition of Pool et al. could be formulated as a sustained release pharmaceutical composition adapted to provide a particular plasma concentration, as Pool et al. clearly indicated that the compounds were to be administered from 1-6 times a day in concentrations of from 0.1-1000 mg and in order to achieve effective plasma concentration levels in low compound concentrations and/or low daily dosages as indicated one would have to formulate the compounds such that they would be delivered at a sustained rate. Further it is well known in the art to formulate pharmaceutical compositions as sustained release compositions in order to more effectively deliver the compositions due to short half-lives and/or to better treat/control a particular disease state.

The examiner respectfully points out the following: "Products of identical chemical composition can not have mutually exclusive properties." A chemical composition and its properties are inseparable. Therefore, if the prior art teaches the identical chemical structure, the properties applicant discloses and/or claims are necessarily present. In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 709, 15 USPQ2d 1655, 1658 (Fed. Cir. 1990).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
